The Epiphany of the Lord

Through the Incarnation, the generosity and mercy of God have finally appeared among us - in the life of one who is the very expression of the Father's greatness. And so, from earliest times the Church's Christmas celebration has made reference the Epiphany, or 'Manifestation' of the Lord - symbolised in the story of today's gospel, but also realised in a special way in the Lord's baptism, and in the 'first sign' he worked at the marriage in Cana. It comes as no surprise, when we hear it read, to find that today's first reading from Isaiah has a very ancient association with this festival: 'Arise, shine out Jerusalem. The nations come to your light and kings to your brightness'. This passage - from the writings of the Isaian tradition from the period after the return from the exile - expresses a vision of Israel fulfilling its role as 'a light to the nations'. Sharing in the 'glory' (or incomparable greatness) of the Lord himself, the holy city will attract the wealth of the nations as the kings of the earth share in its rebuilding.

This Old Testament text and its parallels (see Ps 72:10) may have inspired the story recounted by Matthew in today's gospel. It is possible that an unusual astronomical event may also have contributed to its inspiration, calling to mind the prophecy of Balaam, 'a star is emerging from Jacob' (Num 24:17). As it stands, the story is filled with symbolic meaning. The Magi represent the nations of the earth finding the Saviour of the world - in contrast to the scribes of Israel, familiar with the scriptures but not recognising their fulfilment; the gifts of the Magi are symbolic of the world's confession of faith in Christ - gold for royalty, frankincense for priesthood, myrrh for the one who is to die; notoriously ruthless Herod reminds us of earthly powers that obstruct the designs of God. We should note, especially, the significance of the words, 'going in they saw the child with his mother, Mary'. While Luke's narrative of Christ's conception and birth has Mary as its central figure, Matthew's account of the virgin birth is centred on Joseph. The words we have quoted, however, reflect the importance already given to Mary in the community that gave us Matthew's gospel.

The second reading from Paul's letter to the Ephesians continues the theme of 'manifestation', as it takes us into the depths of Paul's vision of faith in Christ. For Paul, of course, God's dealings with the human family have come to a magnificent climax in what God has done for the world in Christ. As we read in the opening lines of the letter to the Ephesians, Paul interprets Christ's saving work as the revelation of a great 'mystery' - the real purpose God has had in mind since the beginning of creation: 'He has let us know the mystery of his purpose, to bring everything together under Christ as head, everything in the heavens and everything on earth'. Through his ministry, Paul has seen the realisation of what is symbolised in the story of the Magi - the whole human race is called with old Israel, to share 'the same inheritance', to be 'parts of the same body', to share in 'promise' that the 'gospel' has brought to the world 'in Christ Jesus'.

Let us not look so much at who or what the Magi were; rather, let us see what they did out of faith. Can you imitate them by doing the same?

From Today's Reading

First Reading: Isaiah 60:1-6. We hear the prophet encouraging the people of Israel to rejoice and not be sad because if they are true to their Lord God, then the glory that was to be found in Jerusalem at the time of Solomon will return. The Church looks upon this passage as prophesy of the Glory that did come to Bethlehem and Jerusalem with the birth of the Divine Savior. To see how this prophesy has been fulfilled, just think of how Israel has been blessed over the centuries by millions of people coming to see where Christ was born, lived and died.

Responsorial Psalm 72:1-13. The psalmist picks up the same theme of celebrating the coming of the "King of kings and Lord of lords." Although he might not have realized it at the time, this psalm fits the description of Jesus as the divine King of the Jews and all mankind.

Second Reading: Ephesians 3:2-6. In Chapter one of Ephesians, Paul gives us a brief glimpse of God's Plan of Salvation. In chapter three, he explains how he received this great insight and what it means for all who accept Christ and are baptized.

STEWARDSHIP BULLETIN BITS: January 7, 2024 - Epiphany of the Lord

"They fell down and worshipped him. Then they opened their treasures and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh." - Matthew 2:11

Notice the order of events in the Magi's visit. First, they knelt before Jesus and prayed to Him. Then they presented Him with their gifts. We, too, must take time to pray before we present our gifts to the Lord. We never know what God may be asking us to share!

We wish to express our gratitude to all volunteers and staff for your generosity and service during Holy Family Parish's celebration of Advent and Christmas! We are grateful for our Décor Committee, Lectors, Musicians, Ushers, CWL, K of C, Finance and Pastoral Councils, and all others who worked behind the scenes to bring the joy of our Savior's birth to our community.

Likewise, many thanks to the staff and students of Riffel High School who assisted with setting up the gym to accommodate the Christmas Masses. The hospitality of the school community is truly appreciated. We also wish to thank everyone who donated so generously to the décor fund. What a blessing!

Thank you!

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

A seed has been planted in the heart of the diocese. Holy Rosary Cathedral is home to Regina's first Catechesis of the Good Shepherd "atrium." An "atrium" is a place for children to wonder at the depths of the Good Shepherd's love for them. The teaching materials in the atrium are specifically designed for children to ponder scripture and liturgy, set apart for children to discover, contemplate, and wonder about God. We -- Cassandra, Farrah, Katherine, and Angela -- have completed formation to become catechists in this method of sharing the Gospel with children. We look forward to sharing segments in the Archdiocese bulletin about our work, what the children do, and how God is speaking to us alongside them. Stay tuned for news and stories. We "wonder" with the children and invite you to "wonder" with us! For more information, contact regina.cgs33@gmail.com

Or visit the catechesis webpage at: <https://archregina.sk.ca/group/catechetical-support-parishes/> and click on the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd image icon.

Have you ever wondered what to do with that old pair of prescription eyeglasses? Here's the perfect solution!

Bring eyeglass donations to Holy Family Parish and place them in the clear box in the hall entrance.

Your donations will be sent to the Canadian Lions Eyeglass Recycling Centre (CLERC) in Calgary, Alberta where Lions volunteer their time and services to prepare eyeglasses for distribution, cleaning and classifying each pair by prescription.

Once the CLERC has prepared the glasses they are given to qualified missions delivering glasses to the needy around the world.

According to The World Health Organization, 153 million people have uncorrected refractive errors (near-sightedness, far-sightedness or astigmatism). Most of these vision impairments are quickly diagnosed and easy to treat with corrective lenses.

Still, millions of people in developing nations are pushed deeper into poverty simply because they don't have corrective eyeglasses. They can't learn, because reading is difficult. They can't work to the best of their ability, because they can't see clearly.

For children, clear vision means a better education, healthier development and a better quality of life. For adults, it means greater employment opportunity and economic strength. For seniors it means less dependence on others.

What types of eyeglasses are collected?

New and used reading, single vision, bifocal, children, safety, swim goggles with prescription lenses and both prescription and non-prescription sunglasses (clip-ons and glasses). Glasses may consist of glasses in frames, frames only, or uncut lenses.

Cases are NOT needed.

Broken glasses and loose lenses are also accepted. Lions have partners who will recover metals and other components from broken glasses.
